(Phoenix) The Arizona Corporation Commission will host its next round of public comment hearings regarding the Arizona Public Service Co. (APS) in its rate application. The first two hearings were held in Douglas on March 15, and Phoenix on March 22. Two more are set for Yuma, and Verde Valley.

The next public comment hearing will take place Wednesday, March 29, at 6:00 p.m. at Yavapai College on the Verde Valley Campus, 601 Black Hills Drive, Building M, Room 137, in Clarkdale. The last hearing is set for April 10th at 6:00 p.m. in Yuma at the Historic Yuma Theatre at 254 S. Main Street.

APS filed its rate case in June 2016. The application still requires a vote by the Commissioners. That vote will take place after public comment hearings and input from stakeholders and interveners before an Administrative Law Judge.

For those who cannot attend the public comment meeting in person, you can file comments online by going to this link <https://eservice.azcc.gov/Utilities/PublicComment>. Those comments will become part of the official docket.

Established by Article 15 of the state's constitution, the Arizona Corporation Commission is responsible for the regulation of public utilities, overseeing the incorporation or registration of companies wishing to do business in Arizona. Additionally, the Corporation Commission registers and oversees securities offerings and dealers, and enforces railroad and pipeline safety. The five commissioners that make up the Commission are elected by the people of Arizona for a four-year term, with the option of serving for two consecutive terms.
