C. Customer-provided Communications System Failures

When a Customer-provided communications system fails and the connection to the service(s) is not through switching equipment, the Customer-provided communications system must be arranged to promptly return the service(s) to an idle (on-hook) state. In addition, the Customer must notify the Company when the Customer-provided communications systems fails.

D. Use of Satellite Facilities

If a Customer-provided communications system uses satellite facilities (directly or indirectly), and is connected to the service(s), there may be two or more satellite links involved in the combined connection. In such cases, the Company will not be responsible for any deterioration in transmission. It will continue to furnish the service(s) using the service components that it considers to be appropriate.

2.7. CONNECTIONS (Cont'd)

2.7.5. Minimum Protection Criteria

A. General

Minimum Protection Criteria have been specified so that Company personnel, equipment, and services will be protected from the harmful effects of signal power overload, hazardous voltage and longitudinal imbalance. Minimum Protection Criteria apply to the direct electrical, acoustic, or inductive connections of Customer equipment, test equipment and Customer-provided communications systems to the service(s).

B. All Connections

Customer equipment, test equipment and Customer-provided communications systems which are connected to the service(s) on a direct electrical basis or an acoustic or inductive basis, must comply with the following:

1. To protect other Company services, it is necessary that the signal which is applied at the station meets the following limits:

a. Metallic Voltage

- (1) 4 kHz to 270 kHz

Center Frequency (f) of 8 kHz Band	Max. Voltage in All 8 kHz Bands	Terminating Impedance
8 kHz to 12 kHz	- (6.4 + 12.6 log f) dBV*	300 ohms
12 kHz to 90 kHz	(23 - 40 log f) dBV	135 ohms
90 kHz to 266 kHz	- 55 dBV	135 ohms

*dBV = 20 log<sub>10</sub> voltage in volts

- (2) The root-mean-square (RMS) value of the metallic voltage components in the frequency range of 270 kHz to 6 MHz shall, averaged over 2 microseconds, not exceed -15 dBV. This limitation applies with a metallic termination having an impedance of 135 ohms.

b. Longitudinal Voltage

(1) 4 kHz to 270 kHz

Center Frequency (f) of 8 kHz Band	Max. Voltage in All 8 kHz Bands	Terminating Impedance
8 kHz to 12 kHz	- (18.4 + 20 log f) dBV*	500 ohms
12 kHz to 42 kHz	(3 - 40 log f) dBV	90 ohms
42 kHz to 266 kHz	- 62 dBV	90 ohms

*dBV = 20 log<sub>10</sub> voltage in volts

(2) The root-mean-square (RMS) value of the longitudinal voltage components in the frequency range of 270 kHz to 6 MHz shall, averaged over 2 microseconds, not exceed -30 dBV. This limitation applies with a longitudinal termination having an impedance of 90 ohms.

2. To prevent the interruption or disconnection of a service(s) call, it is necessary that the signal power applied at the station be limited. Specifically, the signal at the station shall at no time have energy concentrated solely in the 2450 to 2750 Hz band. If there is signal power at the station in the 2450 to 2750 Hz band, it must not exceed the power present at the same time in the 800 to 2450 Hz band.

C. Direct Electrical Connections

In addition to the regulations in 2.7.5.B. preceding, Customer equipment, test equipment and Customer-provided communications systems which are connected to service(s) on a direct electrical basis must comply with the following:

2.7. CONNECTIONS (Cont'd)

2.7.5. Minimum Protection Criteria (Cont'd)

C. Direct Electrical Connections (Cont'd)

1. To prevent excessive noise and crosstalk, it is necessary that the power of the signal presented at the central office not exceed 12dB below one milliwatt when measured over any three second interval. To insure that this limit is not exceeded, the power of the signal which may be applied by the Customer equipment, test equipment or Customer-provided communications system to the station will be specified for each Customer location. In no case shall the power exceed one milliwatt.

D. Acoustic or Inductive Connections

In addition to the regulations in 2.7.5.B. preceding, Customer equipment and Customer-provided communications systems which are connected to service(s) on an acoustic or inductive basis must comply with the following:

1. To prevent excessive noise and crosstalk, it is necessary that the power of the signal which is applied by the equipment to the station located on the Customer's or user's premises be limited so that the signal power does not exceed 9dB below one milliwatt when averaged over any three second interval. However, to permit each Customer, independent of distance from the serving office, to supply signal power which at the serving office, approximates 12dB below one milliwatt when averaged over any three-second interval, the Company, at the Customer's request, will specify, for each Customer location, the signal power at the station, which shall in no case exceed one milliwatt.

2.7.6. Recording of Two-way Telephone Conversations

Service provided in this tariff is not represented as adapted to the recording of two-way telephone conversations. However, voice recording equipment which is directly, acoustically or inductively connected with service(s) may be used for the recording of such conversations subject to the following regulations which have been adopted by the F.C.C.:

A. Recording Requirements

The voice recording equipment must be arranged so that it can be connected or disconnected (or switched on or off) at the will of the Customer. In addition, one of the following conditions must apply:

1. all parties to the telephone conversation must give their prior consent to the recording of the conversation, and the prior consent must be obtained in writing or be part of, and obtained at the start of, the recording, or
2. a distinctive recorder tone, repeated at intervals of approximately fifteen seconds, is required to alert all parties when the recording equipment is in use. The distinctive recording tone can be provided as part of (1) the recording equipment, or (2) registered or grandfathered protective circuitry.

A broadcast licensee shall be exempt from the above recording requirements provided at least one of the following requirements is met:

- the licensee informs each party to the call of its intent to broadcast the conversation; or
- each party to the call is aware of the licensee's intent to broadcast the call; or
- such awareness of the licensee's intent to broadcast the call may be reasonably imputed to the party.

SECTION 2 - GENERAL REGULATIONS

2.8. RATE DETERMINATION

The rate for a service(s) call is determined by factors such as:

- the distance between the rate centers of the originating (calling) station and the terminating (called) station; and, under certain conditions the distance between the V&H coordinates of an AT&T central office and the rate center of a station or the V&H coordinate of an AT&T central office.
- the time-of-day and the day-of-week
- the duration of the call

The specific factors which apply to a given service(s) call and their application are listed in the section applicable to that type of call. The regulations pertaining to those factors are as follows:

2.8.1. Time-of-Day and Day-of-Week

The rate charged for a service(s) call may be determined in part by the day-of-week and the time-of-day at the originating (calling) station or at the central office associated with the originating (calling) station using special access. Different rates may be applicable to a call at different times of the day and on certain days of the week as specified in the appropriate rate section for that call.

2.8.2. Determining the Chargeable Time of a Call

The chargeable time for a service(s) call is determined by the duration of the call. Chargeable time includes the initial period plus the additional time involved, if any, and is determined as follows:

- A. On all calls, chargeable time begins when completed connection is established between the calling station and the called station.
- B. Chargeable time ends when the calling station "hangs up". If the called station "hangs up" but the calling station does not, chargeable time ends when the connection is released either by automatic timing equipment in the telecommunications network or by the Company operator.

2.8. RATE DETERMINATION (Cont'd)

2.8.2. Determining the Chargeable Time of a Call (Cont'd)

- C. When services are directly connected to a Customer-provided communications system at a Customer's or user's premises, chargeable time begins when a service(s) call terminates in, or passes through, the first Customer equipment on that Customer-provided communications system. It is the Customer's responsibility to furnish appropriate answer supervision to the point of interface with the service(s) so that chargeable time may begin.

2.8.3. Determining the Applicable Rate In Effect

- A. Except for service(s) calls that use a special access line, when the call is established in one rate period and ends in another rate period, the rate in effect at the calling station for each rate period applies to the portion of the call occurring within that rate period. When a calling station uses a special access line, the rate in effect at the AT&T central office for each rate period applies to the portion of the call occurring within that rate period. When a unit of time is split between two rate periods, the rate applicable to that unit of time is based on the rate period in which it began.
- B. Chargeable time for a rate period (e.g., 8:00 A.M. - 5:00 P.M.) begins with the first stated hour (e.g., 8:00 A.M.) and continues to, but does not include, the second stated hour (e.g., 5:00 P.M.).

2.8.4. Use of Service For Resale or Shared Use

When service(s) are resold or shared, the Customer may advise its user that a portion of the Customer's service is provided by this Company. However, the Customer shall not represent that this Company jointly participates in the provision of the Customer's services.

2.9.2. Interference, Impairment or Improper Use

The Company may temporarily restrict service immediately when the Customer violation:

- circumvents the Company's ability to charge for its services as specified in 2.2.3.B. (Fraudulent Use) preceding, or
- results in an immediate harm to the service(s) network or other Company services as specified in 2.7.5. (Minimum Protection Criteria).

In such cases, the Company will make a reasonable effort to give the Customer prior notice before restricting service.

If a Customer fails to comply with 2.2. (Use), 2.7.4.A. (Answer Supervision), 2.7.4.C. (Customer-provided Communications System Failures), and 2.7.5. (Minimum Protection Criteria) preceding, the Company may, on ten days written notice by certified U.S. Mail to the Customer, deny requests for additional service and/or restrict service to the non-complying Customer. If the Company does not deny or restrict the service involved on the date of the ten days notice, and the Customer non-compliance continues, nothing contained herein shall preclude the Company's right to deny or restrict the service without further notice.
