8. Telecommunication Service Priority (TSP)

I. DESCRIPTION:

The Telecommunications Service Priority (TSP) program is a federally-established program under which the Office of Priority Telecommunications in the Executive Office of the President prioritizes the restoration and provisioning of telecommunications services -- including services to private companies and institutions -- that support national security or emergency preparedness (NS/EP). The FCC defines telecommunications services under the TSP program to include the sending and receiving of signals or most any kind, by virtually any means. NS/EP services are those used to maintain a state of readiness or to respond to and manage any event or crisis (local, national, or international) that causes or could cause injury or harm to the population, damage to or loss of property, or that degrades or threatens the NS/EP posture of the United States. For telecommunications services enrolled in the program, the Company will provision and restore TSP-coded circuits, and provide TSP Special Construction services, under the terms set forth in this TSP service product description, and as required by the FCC's TSP regulations (currently at 47 CFR Part 64, Subpart D, Appendix A), and other applicable law. TSP services are in two categories: Priority Provisioning (including Emergency Provisioning and Essential Provisioning) and Priority Restoration.

II. FEATURES: The following features are available on a per-circuit basis. A Customer may subscribe to either Emergency Provisioning or Essential Provisioning for a circuit, but may not subscribe to both.

1. Emergency Provisioning is provided by the Company in response to an emergency, when the Customer's need for a service is critical and must be provisioned at the earliest possible time, without regard to the cost to the Customer. In Emergency Provisioning the Company will take immediate action to allocate the resources necessary to provision circuit(s) and any related special construction assigned an Emergency Provisioning priority level as soon as possible, including dispatching personnel outside normal Company business hours.
2. Essential Provisioning is provided for new essential NS/EP service that must be installed by a specific date that cannot be met using normal Company business procedures. In Essential Provisioning, the Company will adjust its resources to make its best effort to provision the circuit(s) and any related special construction assigned an Essential Provisioning priority level, by the requested service due date, based on the priority level assigned.
3. Priority Restoration designation establishes priorities for restoring NS/EP service in the event of an outage or failure of multiple services. The Company will dispatch personnel outside normal business hours if necessary to restore circuit(s) (and provide any related special construction) assigned a Priority Restoration level of 1, 2, or 3. The Company will dispatch personnel outside normal business hours to restore circuits (and provide any related special construction) assigned a Priority Restoration level of 4 or 5 only when the next business day is more than 24 hours away.

This Grandfathered Services Section of this tariff has two subsections, to help identify where the material was in prior tariffs. Materials in Subsection A previously were in Company Tariff No. 1. Materials in Subsection B previously were in Verizon Business Services Tariff No. 2. Materials in Subsection C previously were in Subsection C.

Gaps in the numbering within the subsections indicate section numbers which are intentionally left blank. To a large extent, this is due to the desire to have the sections below match the section numbers to the grandfathered services which previously were in prior tariffs to the extent applicable.

3.1 Local Exchange Service (Cont'd)

3.1.4 Integrated Services Digital Network (ISDN):

ISDN is an alternative arrangement for individual local exchange services. ISDN is a set of standards which establish compatibility between the public switched telephone networks (PSTN's) and various data terminals and devices. Access, Switching, transmission and signaling are encompassed by this network concept. ISDN supports a variety of services such as Voice, Switched Data, Video and large file transfer from a common network interface.

3.1.4.1 Local ISDN Primary Rate Interface (Local ISDN PRI): Local ISDN PRI is an alternative arrangement for individual local exchange services such as Local Trunk Basic and Local Trunk DID. Local ISDN PRI is provisioned at the 1.544 Mbps rate via the Primary Rate Interface standard of ISDN. Local ISDN PRI provides the Customer with the capabilities of simultaneous access, transmission and switching of voice, data and imaging services via channelized transport.

3.1.4.1.1 Local ISDN PRI Service Arrangement - One or more Service Configurations can be combined to create a Local ISDN PRI Service Arrangement. Customers may have multiple Local ISDN PRI Service Arrangements per location, however for each Service Arrangement one Service Configuration 1 must be included. The controlling D channel will always reside on Service Configuration 1. The D channel is a 64 kbps channel that carries signaling and control for the B channels. The capabilities of the D channel are contained within the customer's Service Configuration. The ISDN Digital Facility is ordered separately and not included as part of the Service Configuration.

3.1.4.1.1.1 Service Configuration 1 - The first Service Configuration for any Local ISDN PRI Service Arrangement must be a Service Configuration 1. Service Configuration 1 provides twenty-three (23) 64 Kbps¹ B channels and one (1) primary 64 Kbps D signaling channel. The primary D channel is an out-of band signaling channel used to control and route all of the B channel traffic within the Local ISDN PRI Service Arrangement.

¹For clear channel 64 kbps circuits, the customer must provide B8ZS or clear channel compatible customer terminal equipment.

Multiple Service Configuration 2s may be associated with a Service Configuration 1 subject to switching equipment limitations. The bearer (or B) channels are used for information transfer between users. B channels provide the same features as Local Trunk Basic and Local Trunk DID. To receive the DID capability, customers must order separately DID telephone numbers, as found in Section 3.1.3.2.1 preceding.

3.1.4.1.1.3 Service Configurations 3 - This configuration is only available to subscribers who have Service Configurations 1. It provides a backup 64 Kbps D channel and twenty three (23) additional 64 Kbps B channels. The backup D channel will control and route all of the B channel traffic of a single PRI Service Arrangement in the event the D channel on the primary configuration (Service Configuration 1) fails. A maximum of one Service Configuration 3 may be included with each Local ISDN PRI Service Arrangement. Service Configuration 3 is available subject to switching equipment capabilities.

The Local Exchange Calling Area and all Usage Services rates which apply to FX Exchange Access Service are the same as those which regularly apply to other Company-provided Local Exchange Access Services bearing the same NPA-NXX designation.

Customers are prohibited from using FX service to place outbound calls including, but not limited to "911" emergency numbers. This restriction is required in order to assure that emergency calls are routed to the Public Safety Answering Point serving the geographical area associated with the Customer's telephone number. The Company strongly recommends that each Customer maintain at least one telephone exchange service access line bearing an NPA-NXX designation associated with the Customer's actual geographic location for emergency use.
